Aaron,

There is really very little to tell about the Education Committee before you took over. A brief summary would include the following notes. Fred could not find anyone to take on the job of the Chair of the committee until finally last year I agreed to work with him but only as co-chair because of my own personal life demands. During that period, I spent my time trying to assemble good, solid people who would work with me to accomplish what ever goals Fred had in mind that were yet completely set forth. I personally contacted every person I felt had the needed qualities, experience and a positive attitude toward the organization and discussed with them what they felt they could do to help move the organization forward. Once I felt comfortable with my choices, they were given to Fred for approval and to be forwarded to the BOD.

About the time that was completed, there was a change in the by-laws that said that no one could participate in the BOE and the Ed./Standards Comm. (the name was changed some where during that period as well) at the same time. Feeling my talents were better used by the BOE, I encouraged Fred to select another person to chair the committee. Mr. Aaron Recksiek was given the chairmanship of the committee and he continues to act in that capacity. Even though the ruling was passed by the BOD, it seems that Mr. Recksiek has not enforced it and thus, I continue to try and contribute to the committee in any way I can. Since that point, I have been on the Chief Examiner selection sub-committee as well as chair of the Clock Director sub-committee as well as continuing to work with the BOE on a regular basis.

Respectfully submitted:
