

The Horological Times committee has reviewed all articles submitted for potential printing and has recommended acceptance, rejection or modification of the content as needed. All committee members were active in participating in the duties of this committee.

Ron Iverson